Saturday, April 8 - 6:00 PM FILM NOIR THE DAMNED DON'T CRY, 1950, Warner Bros., 103 min. Dir. Vincent Sherman. This one gets our vote as the ultimate Joan Crawford noir as she leaves behind grubby oil field life to model in NY's garment jungle. There's no stopping her rise - until she gets caught between the warring affections of gangsters David Brian and Steve Cochran. The script is really a thinly-veiled version of Crawford's own climb to showbiz success!

Saturday, April 8 - 8:30 PM FILM NOIR King Vidor Double Feature: RUBY GENTRY, 1952, Disney, 82 min. Director King Vidor pulls out the stops in this sexually-charged tale of a bonoodks babe (Jennifer Jones) bent on destroying all the men who have used her and cast her aside. Lewis. A young man (John Dall) infatuated with firearms falls for a woman (Peggy Cummins) with a craving for armed robbery. Arguably the most hyper-charged, adrenaline-fueled B-movie of all time. Look for a shot down Las Palmas Avenue... right alongside the Egyptian Theatre!

Friday, April 14 - 7:30 PM FILM NOIR KISS ME DEADLY, 1955, UA (Sony), 105 min. Dir. Robert Aldrich. Whether regarded as a statement on American paranoia in the Atomic Age or as a proto-feminist send-up of author Mickey Spillane's macho fantasies, it is brilliantly adapted here by A.I. Bezzzerides. Mike Hammer (Ralph Meeker) bounces around Los Angeles in search of "The Great Whatsit."

Saturday, April 15 - 7:30 PM FILM NOIR Robert Siodmak Double Feature: THE SPIRAL STAIRCASE, 1946, Disney, 83 min. When he made this film, director Robert Siodmak's reputation rivaled Hitchcock's. Dorothy McGuire is memorable as a mute servant girl who becomes the terrified target of a serial killer. A superb cast, including Ethel Barrymore and Rhonda Fleming. CRISS CROSS, 1949, Universal, 87 min. Director Robert Siodmak's visionary effort now stands as perhaps the most darkly poetic rendering of amour fou in all film noir. But Lancaster and Dan Duryea plot a daring heist, while vying for the affections of sensual Yvonne DeCarlo.

Sunday, April 16 - 6:30 PM FILM NOIR Cornell Woolrich Double Feature: PHANTOM LADY, 1944, Universal, 87 min. Ella Raines searches for the missing woman who can save her boss from execution. Director Robert Siodmak wrings every bit of shadowy mystery out of writer Cornell Woolrich's suspense masterpiece. New 35mm Print! THE WINDOW, 1949, Warners, 73 min. Dir. Ted Tetzlaff. The best adaptation of Cornell Woolrich ever: a young boy (Bobby Driscoll) with an imagination witnesses a murder in the apartment upstairs, but can't get anyone to believe him. The killers close in. With Arthur Kennedy. New 35mm print funded by The Film Noir Foundation.
